Air Freight Rates are Available by Request from Anywhere in the World

- Rates are based on volume of wine imported. 9 liters (the equivalent of 12/750ml bottles) = 1 case.
- Collections from other countries are possible but will incur an extra charge.
- Rates can only be estimated. Insurance, and a partial % of duties and taxes are based on value and varies according to your purchases. Also, duties on high alcohol wines and sparkling wines are higher.
- Rates do not include shipping from our warehouse to your location. Special packaging charges and fuel surcharges may apply. The import manager will help you arrange domestic shipping once your wine has arrived in the US. * Please note that we cannot honor claims for environmental damage within the US. It is imperative that you consider shipping method and current weather conditions when arranging for domestic shipping.
- Your wine is fully insured by Adventures in Wine from the time it is shipped by your supplier to its final delivery.

To import, AIW requires an invoice (or similar) that details the wines to be imported. Details required are:

- Name, address and contact information of each supplier;
- Your name as purchaser c/o Adventures in Wine, 440 Talbert St., Daly City, CA 94014 USA;
- Complete description of each item including: number of bottles, number of cartons, bottle volume (in ml), vintage, producer name, complete name of the wine, any identifying names (i.e. vineyard name and cuvée designation), and value per bottle in the currency of the country from which it is to be imported.

Please forward the invoices to the import manager who will arrange for collection. After collection and transport to the consolidator, your wine boxes will be opened and the bottles strip labeled to meet US Government requirements. The wines will then be repacked, consolidated and shipped via refrigerated sea container (@ 13°C). Once the wine arrives in the US, your wine will be inspected accuracy and you will then be contacted regarding domestic shipping. For your first import, payment in full of all charges (or a deposit of the total expected amount) will be required prior to the release of your wine. After that, import charges are NET 10 and your credit card will be charged automatically. Please be advised that Adventures in Wine and our consolidators in Europe cannot be responsible for “holding” wine to lower your shipping costs; if your wine is at the consolidator, it will be shipped. To delay shipping, please arrange storage with your suppliers until you have sufficient quantity. Finally, please be advised that Adventures in Wine is unable to import spirits.

Customer is responsible for all charges regardless of error on the part of the supplier, i.e. shipment of the wrong wines, under-quoted rates by suppliers in Europe, etc. Adventures in Wine will not handle returns. We will not be held responsible for loss or error on the part of the supplier. Loss, theft or damage incurred in transit to our facility in Daly City, CA will be compensated for under our insurance policy.
